Words from our Senior Minister

The Discipline of Anticipation

We are making our way into the holy, sacred season of Advent. Advent means, literally, “the arrival of that which has long been waited for.” It is a season of preparation and anticipation of the in-breaking of God, who comes to us, always, in the most unexpected and surprising of ways.

For thousands of years, people of faith have taken this month to prepare for the birth of the Christ child. As the great mystic Meister Eckhart once asked, “What good is it that Jesus came two thousand years ago if he doesn’t continue to come now?”

We live into this season with an anticipation that is marked with hope and longing.

Advent is important because all too often we get bogged down in the daily routine. We find ourselves burned out, bruised or betrayed and we slowly begin to lose the ability to anticipate or be filled with wonder and awe.

Advent, however, is a season when we open ourselves up to God and invite God to come into those places where our hearts have lost the ability to be filled with hope, anticipation, wonder and awe.

Joseph Bottum once wrote, “What advent is, really, is a discipline: a way of forming anticipation.”

I love that image; that Advent is the season when we practice the ‘discipline of anticipation.’

Throughout the year, when we pray, “Come, Lord Jesus,” it’s often said as a future hope. Yet this time each year, we spend a month remembering that it was a fulfilled promise. When Jesus came to live among us, as Emmanuel, God-with-us, he showed us that he is what Laurence Hull Stookey described as, “the God who keeps promises yet loves surprises”.

Over the next several weeks I hope you’ll heed the invitation to practice the discipline of anticipation and open yourself up and invite God in. I hope you’ll join us and enter into this season together—a season filled with Hope, Peace, Joy, and Love—seeking God’s presence and promises, yet keeping open and flexible to whatever God might surprise us with.

For, once again in the words of Frederick Buechner, “If you concentrate for just an instant, far off in the deeps of you somewhere you can feel the beating of your heart. For all its madness and lostness, not to mention your own, you can hear the world itself holding its breath.”

Many blessings on your journey to Bethlehem,

Rev. Dr. Russ Peterman, Senior Minister

How to connect and get involved at UCC

Can you believe it is December already? It is so easy to get caught up in the hustle and bustle of every day life. The struggle to make time for the important things is becoming more and more prevalent in today’s society.

UCC wants to provide opportunities for everyone to take a moment and allow time for God, our families and loved ones. This Advent season, UCC is gifting a Mason Jar Advent Calendar to each household. We invite you to intentionally take time to do a daily act of love and grace. Mason Jar Advent Calendars will be available in the Gallery following the Hanging of the Greens on Sunday, November 25 and in the Arches the following Sundays until we run out.

Christmas is also a time of year that we come together as families and friends. We all know of someone or may be that someone who would like to share in the joy of the season. Invite your friends, acquaintances and extended families to celebrate with us in worship and participate in any of our holiday programs and opportunities to serve. There are so many wonderful things always happening at UCC and especially throughout Advent, there is definitely something for everyone. Shop at the Gifts of Hope Market, be a Christmas Angel—help provide a coat, clothing and shoes to an underprivileged child, attend a concert performed by the Texas Boys Choir, partake in any one of our Intergenerational Advent Experiences and so much more. Learn about all these events and opportunities to serve on the following pages.

May this Christmas season be a blessed and joyful time for all!

Merry Christmas!

UCC ADVENT GIFT: MASON JAR ADVENT CALENDAR

As we "Make Room" this Advent Season, we encourage you to pick up a Mason Jar Advent Calendar, a printable Advent calendar in the form of beautifully illustrated gift tags, each with an Advent prayer or activity. Step away from the busyness and make room each day to slow down, breathe, and refocus on God's love and goodness. As each day unfolds, simply draw a card from the jar—day by day, week by week, prayer by prayer, action by action, together we countdown to that holy night when God slips into the world.

ADVENT DAILY DEVOTIONS—AVAILABLE IN THE ARCHES

I am Mary: 2018 Advent Devotional by Chalice Press

Join young Mary as she experiences the surprise, confusion, fear, anticipation, and blessing that follows her brave response to God's call: "Here am I, Lord." Listen carefully, and you may hear that call in your own life.
