Words from our Senior Minister

Warning: Pure, Unadulterated Gushing Ahead!

Normally I use this space to write of matters of theology, hoping to inspire or challenge you in some way. This time, however, I'm going to take a slightly different angle. Today I'm simply going to talk about how incredible our staff is and why I'm so thrilled to serve alongside of them!

Each day I have the privilege of serving a church alongside a group of people who are compassionate, generous, and deeply, deeply faithful. They are willing to struggle with the questions and doubts that come with ministry, as well as share in the joyous blessings that come with each day. They are willing to take risks and be of service in the community around us. And, more than anything, they love this church and the people they serve.

Our Executive Minister, Rev. Renee Hoke, the newest member of the clergy staff, is creative and willing to think outside the box. Her infectious laughter puts us all at ease and invites us to continually ask if there are better, more effective or faithful ways we can be going about our ministry. I know there are still folks in the congregation who wonder what an executive minister is and why we need one. To put it as clearly as I can, she is my right hand and takes on all of the administrative elements of managing the ministry of the church and the staff, to free me up to focus on what you all called me to do: preach, cast the vision of the church, and be the face of the congregation in the community. I simply couldn't do my job in the manner this congregation desires without her important work. I'm thankful for her every day!

For over thirty years, Rev. Cyndy Twedell has faithfully served this congregation in a number of different positions and role. She uses that experience and institutional wisdom to lead the congregational care ministry here at UCC. Cyndy is incredibly caring, nurturing and pastoral. She knows so many of the rich stories of this congregation and holds them all as sacred.

Rev. Jessica Vacketta oversees our Outreach ministry, inspiring us to give and serve in ways that make our community and world around us better. She has such a passion for connecting people to the places that they can find their own way to serve God by serving others. In addition, she works with our college students and young adults and helps them find a home away from home while navigating the journey into adulthood. She does all that in a spirit and way that brings much joy and laughter.

The clergy team member who works with God's youngest children and their families is Rev. Kera Watts. She quietly goes about her important work of creating an environment where children (and their parents) are given the tools discover God within themselves. Her goal is to be sure that nothing is taught to our children that they will need to unlearn later in life in order to live an authentic faith.

Rev. Shannon Moore

is our Minister of Faith

Formation, but really, he's more than that. In addition to overseeing all the ministries – including worship and adult Sunday School – that help us grow in our faith, he is one of the most genuine and gracious people I've ever met. I've noticed that when any of us are ever having a bad day we find ourselves in his office, sometimes without even realizing why we are there. He has a way of making us feel better and find our joy again.

Rev. Dr. Todd Prickett, our minister of music, is beyond talented. You see (and hear) the fruits of his labor every Sunday in the beauty and wonder of the choir. But what you don't see is how diligent he is behind the scenes to make sure we sing just the right hymns and that our worship is thematically cohesive and meaningful. He makes it all look so easy, which takes a lot of work.

Rev. Jamie Plunkett and his youth ministry staff of William and Allison provide a safe place for the young people of UCC to grow and explore what it means to be people of faith. They continually remind us that the youth are not the church of tomorrow, but a vital, thriving part of the church today!

Michelle Ingram handles all the operations of the church, makes sure that everything falls into place and is one of the hardest working people I know. Patty Poling is the creative mind behind all of our communications and constantly pushing us to consider how our message of inclusive love will be seen and heard by those we are entrusted to welcome and serve.

I could go on and on, but let it suffice to say that I am deeply honored to serve alongside such an incredible, gracious staff. Each one of them is called to shine the light of God's love into the world and with each other, and they do that in incredible ways.

There is no place I'd rather be, nothing I'd rather be doing, than what we are doing together right here, right now.

Grace and peace to you,

Rev. Dr. Russ Peterman, Senior Minister

Rev. Dr. Russ Peterman

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

A new year for a fresh new start! There is something to be said about that feeling we get when we receive a clean slate. We feel empowered to carry out our resolutions to be better to ourselves and to those around us. What better place to fulfill those goals, than right here at UCC. There are so many opportunities to connect, grow and serve—taking action to bring us closer to who we aim to be.

Take a look through this Journal to discover ways in which you can become part of an amazing church community, enlightened and passionate about God. Wherever you may be in your faith journey, UCC will meet you there and support you along the way, at the speed most comfortable to you.

If you have questions or doubts about church or faith, our ministers would love for you to reach out to them—they love to listen and enjoy conversations.

WISHING YOU ALL A HAPPY, HEALTHY AND BLESSED 2019!
